We live in an age of symbolism. Symbolic literature, art, and music dominate our culture, implying a deeper meaning to all facets of our lives.

The Encinal seal is the symbolic representation of the ideals that make our school years meaningful. For, regardless of the role we play in the functioning of our school—be it teacher, student, administrator or service staff — our contributions are reflected in the components of the seal.

The seal is imprinted at the entrance of Encinal where it serves to remind us of the traditions and ideals which have united EHS students in mutual bonds of admiration and respect.

Simply to photograph events and assemble them in appropriate sections would factually record a year at Encinal.

But the Horizon staff would like to impart a deeper meaning to its record by using the school seal as a symbol of the basic ideals which are the foundation of Encinal.

Mr. Bell's Service a Unifying Element

"Know ye the school where the oak and the laurel
Are symbols of deeds that are done in our time . . ."

Principal Donald J. Bell is the personification of the goals, ideals, and traditions of Encinal and works to see them realized. Keeping Encinal's curriculum up-to-date requires his participation in, and cooperation with, such organizations as the PTA, California Association of Secondary School Administrators, and the Board of Education.

Mr. Bell is interested, enthused, and involved in athletics. He serves as the president of the North Coast Section of the State Interscholastic Federation, which regulates high school athletic programs. An avid supporter of EHS athletics, he can usually be found wherever a Jet team is in action.

Mr. Bell recognizes that the values implied in our school symbol are equally important in personal application. He expressed his hope that "each graduating senior, regardless of the direction his pathway to the future takes, will be guided in his tasks by the symbolism reflected in our school's seal."

MR. BELL SHARES tense moments with students during the Alameda-Encinal game (left), keeps in touch with community leaders via telephone (lower left), and aids student Linda Scannell in making her announcement (lower right).

Board Approves Pilot Vocational Plan

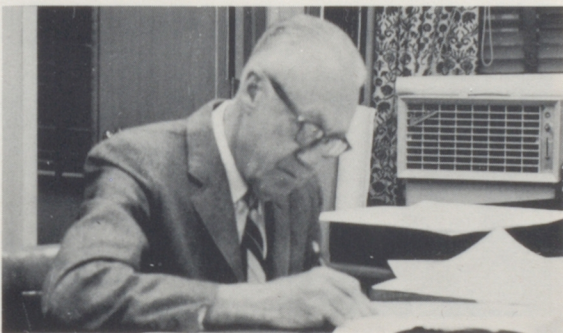

DR. DONALD M. RODERICK
Superintendent of Schools

Approval of a vocational exploration pilot program in cooperation with the US Naval Air Station, Alameda, was the 1964-65 Board of Education action most significant to Encinal. The program, which went into effect at the beginning of the second semester, provided Encinal students on the job observation of the duties and related aspects of various occupations.

Vice Principals Share Varied Duties

Two important administrators, Miss Shockey and Mr. Brandes, aid tremendously in the task of maintaining student discipline. Their jobs, dealing with the conduct and adjustments to school life of Encinal High students, are extremely important.

Their duties include editing the final copy of the ECHO, attending PTA, BOC and GA meetings, chaperoning dances and working closely with Mr. Bell in school activities.

MR. FRANK HANNA, Head Counselor

MR. JOHN BAY
Junior Counselor

Counselors Help Students Plan Programs

Tailoring individual plans to coincide with individual aptitudes is one of the vital jobs of a counselor. The counselors arrange for and compile the results of tests which determine the skill and potential of students. By using test results, grades, and desires of the student, the counselor can help him to make the decisions that will get him off to a good start in life.

Other jobs of the counselor include program scheduling, re-scheduling, and informing students of college requirements, scholarships, and tuition fees.

BOC Enforcement Commended by Mr. Bell

"Without our Boards of Control . . . true student government would be impossible. I believe (this) group is doing a better job in student government for our school than is done in most high schools. The fine discipline at student meetings and in the halls and the thoughtful legislation by our Student Council are examples of their effectiveness in student government."

These words, included in a letter written by

Mr. Bell, stated his opinion of this year's BOC. The letter was published in the ECHO as a compliment for an editorial of the previous week entitled, "Time to Leave the Board of Control Alone."

Letters and editorials written by students, faculty, and BOC members appeared in the ECHO, heightening the annual controversy. Although the criticism did not last long, the BOC was relieved when it ceased.

PTA Belles Inform, Educate Public

MRS. VINCENT GIORGI
President

Theme of this year's PTA was "The Bells Are Ringing." Monthly general meetings had such titles as "Ring in the New," "Sleigh Bells," "Ring Those Bells," and "School Belles." PTA meetings were informative, educational, and interesting.

PTA activities included cupcake sales, fall and spring award dinners, the Founders' Day program at the Alameda Hotel, the International Dinner, and managing the Thrift Shop and the Toy Shop.

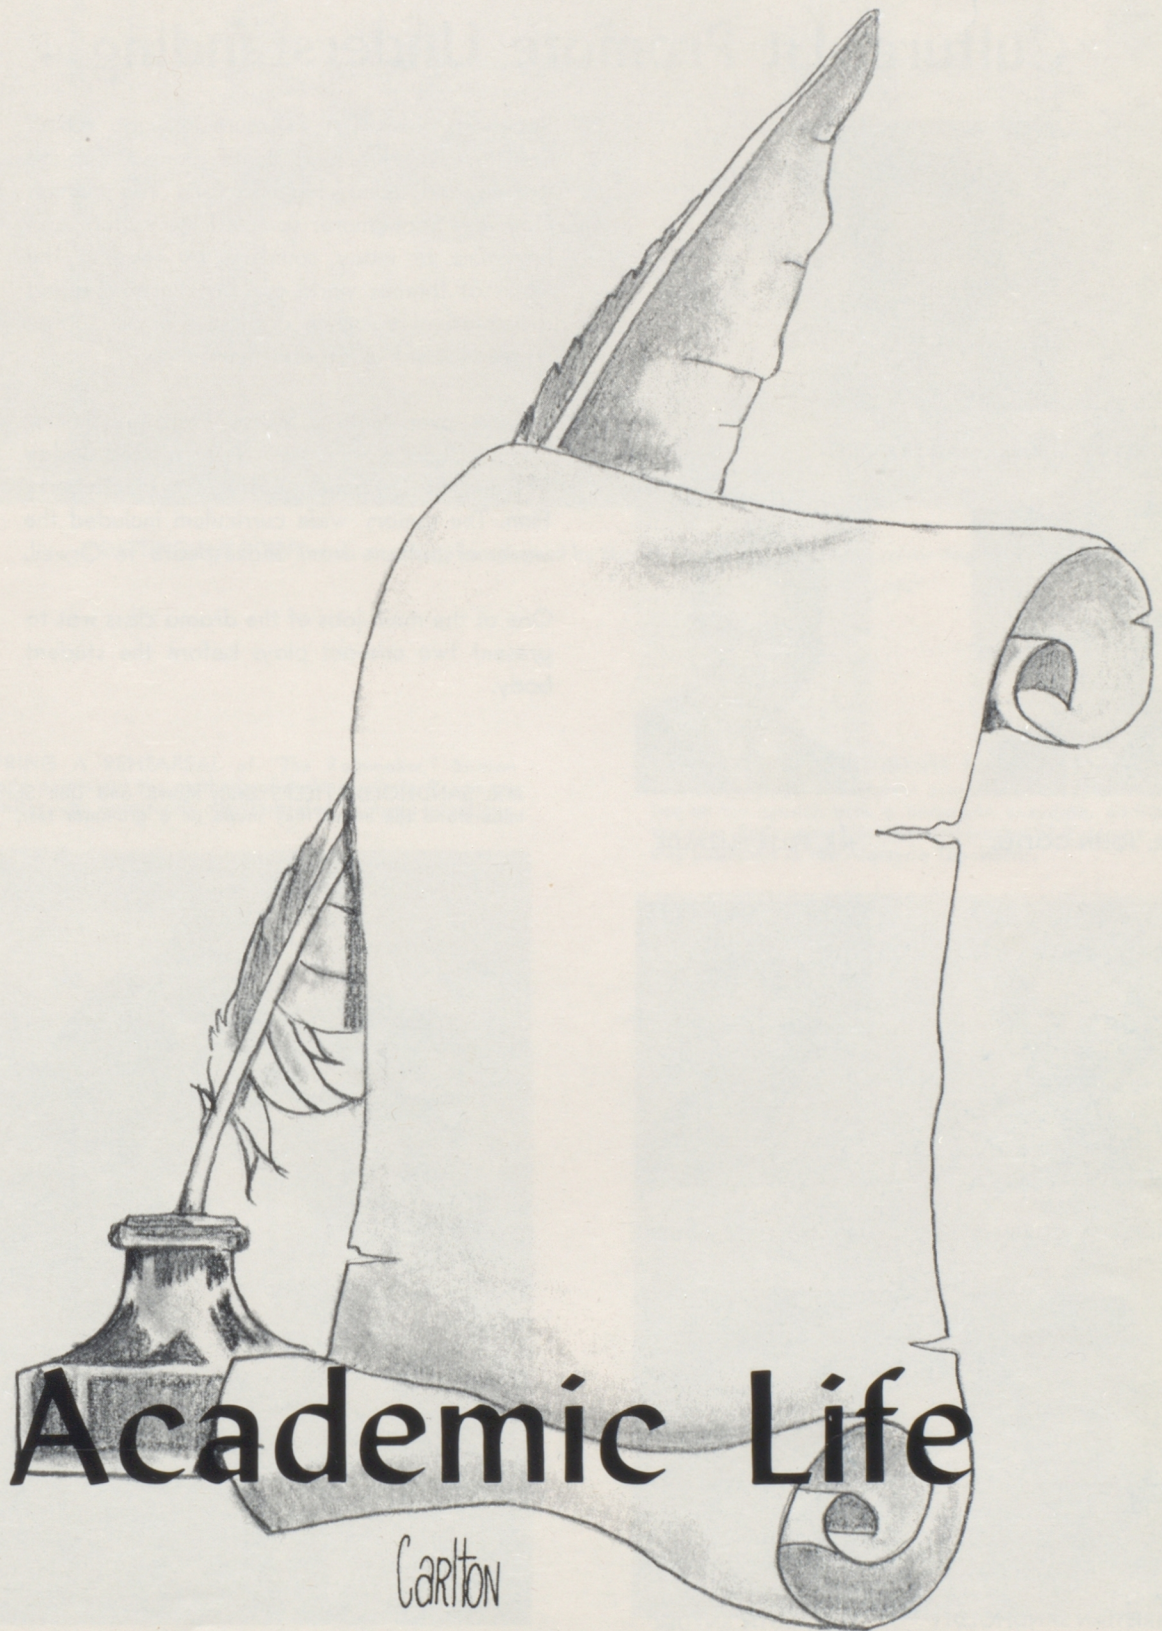

GINA PERATA APPARENTLY enjoys the type of refreshment that Mrs. Jane Beer and Mrs. Marian Kidder are selling.

Culture, Lit Promote Understanding

MISS JOAN BRANSTEN

Receiving their first exposure to high school literature, freshman students plowed through Romeo and Juliet, Ivanhoe, and The Human Comedy. Sophomores sampled the culture and literature of many countries by reading the works of famous world authors. By eliminating grammatical errors in original themes, sophomores learned to express themselves.

Slaving over United States literature, junior English students read such books as Red Badge of Courage, The Scarlet Letter, and Huckleberry Finn. The seniors' wide curriculum included the works of authors from Shakespeare to Orwell.

One of the main jobs of the drama class was to present two one-act plays before the student body.

LATIN 2 STUDENTS Dorothy Diamant and Mary Odom dress Gary Ng in a Roman toga under the watchful eye of Mrs. Hegeman.

Foreign languages were made interesting with the aid of film strips, dialogues, and plays. Three of the teachers were graduates of National Defense Education Act Language Institutes.

The French classes began the year experiencing the methods of a new French book. After a year of finding the correct case endings, memorizing dialogues, and deciding whether a word is masculine, feminine, or neuter, the French students may now answer the familiar "Parlez-vous français?" with a deserved "Oui!"

Spanish classes spent much time developing correct intonation and pronunciation. The Latin classes studied grammar and Roman history.

SPANISH STUDENT TEACHER Mr. Rudy Carvajal puts across a humorous point to Mark Lander and Sue Mihok.

Review of Past Helps Interpret Present

Whether studying world, American, or California history EHS students agree that there is nothing like the past to interpret the present. World history students reviewed ancient and medieval civilizations, the mighty empires, bloody invasions, and heroic conquests. The American history course included the eras of all our great presidents and the development of our nation.

A study of federal, state, and local government comprised the government course. The required course gave seniors a sense of good government and helped pave the way to good citizenship essential to a democracy such as ours.

PRECEDING THE PRESIDENTIAL elections, debates were held in Mr. Winberg's government class concerning qualifications of the candidates.

ORAL HISTORY REPORTS are included in the curriculum of this American history class. Here, Charles Perry directs his argumentative fact to the camera instead of to his partner, Karen Soots.

Mathematics Brings Order to Chaos

Mathematics is used in some form or other, in everyday life all over the world. It is based on thinking in quantities.

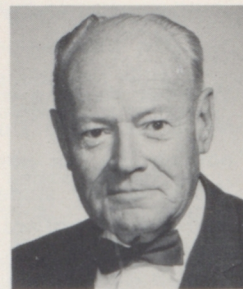

In arithmetic the quantities are expressed as numbers, in algebra the quantities are expressed in numbers and symbols. In geometry the quantities are related to space.

Algebra students learned a short cut method of counting by using letters in the place of figures. Young Euclids beginning geometry in their sophomore year became acquainted with axioms, postulates, and indirect proofs. Trigonometry scholars explored the relationship of cosines and sines to the measurement of triangles.

Students interested in secretarial work as a vocation or as a benefit in future studies, enrolled in Encinal's business courses.

Shorthand students began by learning the basic symbols and steadily increased their vocabulary. As they advanced they acquired skills in taking business letters dictated by their instructors.

Beginning typists learned the locations of letters and symbols on the keyboard and practiced these fundamentals. The advanced typists concentrated on improving their speed and accuracy. Students in business machine classes learned to skillfully manipulate calculators, dictaphones, and adding machines.

Students Explore World of Science

Subjects ranging from the smallest type of plant life to the most complex animal form, came under the eye of biology and physiology students as they endeavored to find out more about life in the world and the human body.

Chemistry students dealt with composition of substances and the changes these substances undergo. Each student with his own laboratory kit experimented with elements from pungent sulfur gas to active, odorless oxygen gas.

What makes the world go around? Why does everything that goes up have to come down? Physics classes searched for the answers to these questions, and others, involving matter and energy and their relationships.

Driving, Library Occupy Spare Time

Term paper topics, book reports, incomplete homework assignments—whatever the problem it can be solved in Encinal's library. With the aid of Miss Pageau and her able assistants, students spent many a noon hour and study period toiling over the hundreds of books in the library.

The term tranquil cannot be applied to our frantic young automobilists. Taking the drivers training class during a free period, many students learned correct safety and driving skills from Mr. Johns. This practice served as the basis of driving habits of future drivers.

Basic skills classes taught students the correct ways of operating some of the school's machines. One of the jobs of this class was to print headlines for the school paper.

Creative Activities Awaken Appreciation

FOUR ORCHESTRA MEMBERS practice faithfully on their violins hoping to someday play in a symphony.

Students were awakened to an appreciation of art through creative activities provided by Mrs. Nicosia and student teacher Mr. Kurt Nelson in Encinal's art classes. The students sketched murals, painted landscapes, created junk sculpture, and designed posters. Several of the posters were entered in state-wide contests.

The orchestra and band under the direction of Mr. Hewitt presented a concert in the spring. They also played for the PTA sponsored Founders' Day Program at the Alameda Hotel, during assemblies and for the senior play. The marching band performed at all football and all home basketball games. Mr. Bryant instructed the choir for performances at the Christmas pageant, the spring concert, the annual operetta, and private appearances.

Physical fitness has become an important nationwide issue in recent years, and EHS gym classes started the year with a vigorous program. The boys' gym classes took part in a fitness program which required them to broad jump, run the 440 and 50-yard dashes and do sit-ups and push-ups. The boys also wrestled, swam, and played basketball and baseball. The girls started with swimming and went on to participate in volleyball, badminton, tumbling, basketball, and softball.

Another division of the physical education department was the modern dance class for girls, conducted by Mrs. Jones. This class taught girls the techniques of gracefulness and coordination. The girls were encouraged to create imaginative dance routines and to appreciate the body movements of others.

The effectiveness of the cheerleaders, pompon girls, and flag twirlers was demonstrated by their ability to arouse school spirit with enthusiastic yells, skillfully executed routines, and intricate drills.

Jet - Hornet Dance Becomes First of Kind

CHI MU MEMBERS, Mike Leach and Chris Hillyer present a skit publicizing "Moon River."

School dances, both formal and informal, provided much of the entertainment for Jets this year. A big first for the Alameda Unified School District was the joint Alameda-Encinal spring term dance. The couples danced to the music of the Exiles amid modern art figures symbolizing "East Side-West Side," the dance theme.

The social whirl of dances began with the opening dance, "Hello Stranger" and was followed by the Soph Hop, "Dancing in the Street." The Christmas season was climaxed by the GA "girl-ask-boy" dance, "Winter Wonderland."

Perhaps the most unusual dance of the year was the senior sponsored Sadie Hawkins Day dance. Patched cutoffs and barefeet seemed to be the suitable dress for the dance. The dance merry-go-round ended appropriately enough with "Carousel," the Junior Prom.

DELIGHTED FRESHMEN WATCH gleefully as senior Regina Perata teaches Mr. Bell how to swing with the swim. The lesson was a high point of the opening dance, "Hello Stranger."

Assembly, TV Cameras, Arouse Interest

JET SPECTATORS WATCHED incredulously as the Hornets piled touchdown after touchdown against the Encinal score.

The week preceding our traditional game with Alameda High School was filled with much excitement. Enthusiastic Jets hung a Hornet dummy from the staircase in full view of everyone while the Pep Club hung little "Beat Alameda" and "Squeeze the Bees" signs everywhere. On the morning of the day before the game our pepsters, president, and team captains attended Alameda's assembly. Alameda's representatives returned the visit the following day.

A noon rally on the day of the game made our spirits soar higher and with gaily decorated cars we set off to squeeze the bees. We fought a hard game in front of the KGO television cameras but we lost 39-7.

JUDI FREESTED
Football Queen

Amidst the glamour and excitement of the traditional Alameda-Encinal Game the 1964 Football Queen and her two Princesses were crowned.

The identities of the monarch and her two princesses were disclosed during the exchange assembly the morning of the game. Seven of the prettiest girls in the school lined up in front of the student body with their escorts and waited impatiently as Mr. Bell crowned Judi Freested, queen, and Artha Slangerup and Cheri Powers, princesses. The Queen was recrowned by State Assemblyman Robert Crown of Alameda during coronation ceremonies at the game. The Assemblyman set aside his regular duties to attend the game and crown the Queen.

All seven girls and their escorts were guests at the gala Soph Hop that night.

Parting Was Sadder, A Bit More Final

TY TRAN OPENS an atlas to a page which shows the location of his home in Vietnam. While in Alameda the AFS student lived with the Jack A. Harris family.

An alien country, a foreign school, and a new family confronted Ty "Roland" Tran, Encinal's American Field Service foreign exchange student, when he ventured to the United States from his native Vietnam.

When Ty stepped off the Pan-American jet which flew him to San Francisco last July, he experienced the poignant sensation of "aloneness" unique to a stranger in a foreign country. That same sensation came to him again as he walked through Encinal's doors for the first time. Ty's uncertainty and doubt, however, soon began to fade as he became a part of the whirl of activities that accompanied his year at Encinal.

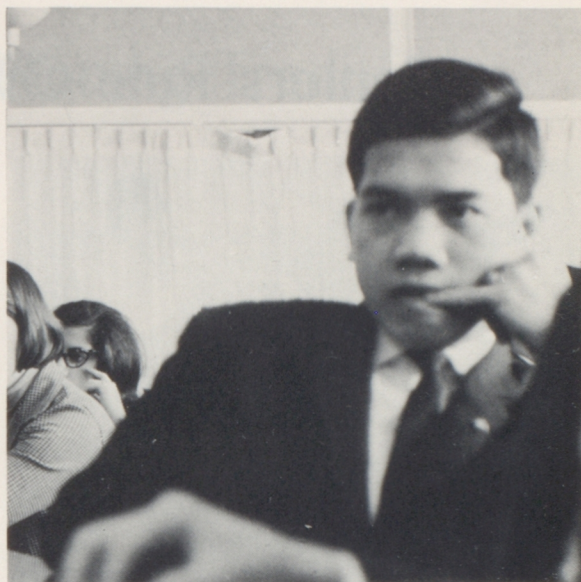

Finally, graduation came and Ty received the diploma which symbolized the end of a year of new experiences, friendships, and memories. For most seniors graduation was filled with nostalgia, but for Ty it was a bit sadder and a little more final because shortly he would be on his way back to Vietnam.

DOORS OF LEARNING and understanding were opened to Ty when he enrolled at Encinal.

PREPARATION OF OXYGEN was one of the experiments Ty performed in chemistry this year.

A PENSIVE EXPRESSION crosses the face of Ty as he listens to one of the speakers at the Model UN Conference at Berkeley.

AFS Student's Roles Were Varied, Many

Being a student, statesman, and diplomat put much pressure on Ty Tran. His curriculum included chemistry, gym, public speaking, English, U.S. history, and government. Extra-curricular activities involved membership in the Model UN, Key Club, and CSF. As a foreign exchange student Ty was a diplomat without portfolio as he spoke to organizations in Alameda ranging from PTA's to service clubs.

Ty attended the Model UN Conference at the University of California as an observer with the EHS delegation. During the month of March Ty spent a week in Dixon, a small community near Sacramento, with the family of the school's student body president. In exchange Dixon's AFS student from Sweden spent a week at Encinal. Purpose of the exchange was to give foreign students the opportunity to see how large schools differ from small schools.

Ty's year in the United States was climaxed by a bus tour of the country and a stop in Washington, D.C. to meet President Johnson.

Seniors Rule Over Lower Classmen

FEROCIOUS MIGHTY SENIORS Sharon Wade, Marianne Golden, and Diane Bancroft charge in to break up a lower classmen offensive play.

VARIED FACIAL EXPRESSIONS reflect lower classmen team members' attitudes toward their inevitable fate.

CHEERS, CHANTS, AND shenanigans performed by pompon boys, Jerry Shaw, Ron Dunn, Denny Johnson, Jerry Ogden, Charles Bishop, Gilbert Araujo, and Ray Cruz added to the excitement of the day.

"Seniors Rule" was the justifiable slogan of the senior powder puff football team this year. The girls in an effort to leave their mark on the lower classmen literally outplayed the somewhat confused juniors, sophomores, and freshmen. The final score of the game was 47-7.

Outstanding players were Cheri Powers, who scored all but one of the senior touchdowns, and Vicki Graftaas, who despite the bitter protests of her teammates was removed from the game during the last quarter because of overenthusiasm!

POWDER PUFF REFEREE George Read walks calmly toward a pile up to begin "untangling" operations.

/ Faculty Maintains Winning Tradition

BLOCK "E" COACH James Tensley maps strategy for plays to set up the potuberant pundits for the kill.

A PERPLEXED GLANCE by Art Gomez at the score indicates that the "Flabby Five" have emerged triumphant once again.

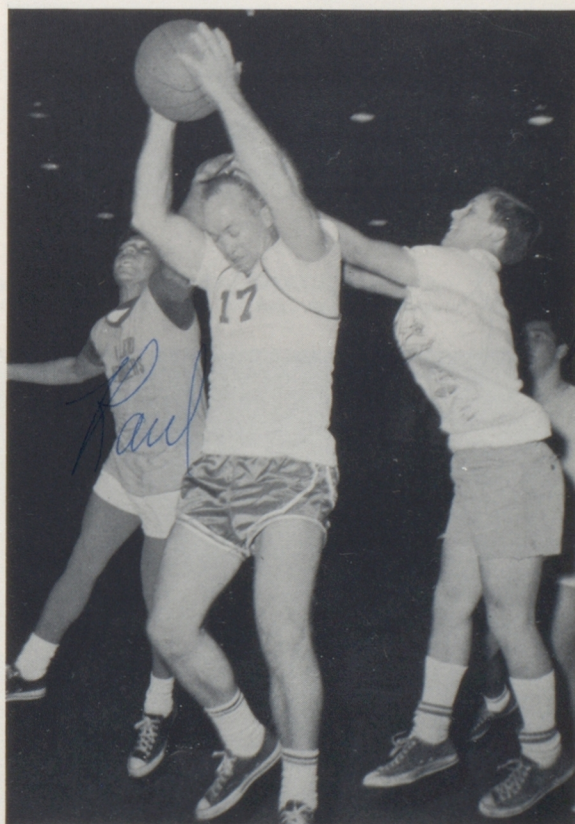

The Encinal High School faculty basketball team, known as the "Flabby Five," romped to a 49-22 win over the EHS Block "E" five in the annual pre-Christmas tussle. This was the eleventh consecutive win for the faculty.

Much of the credit for the win, however, must be given to the "Flabby Five's" pompon girls, Miss Bell, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Roke, Miss Bransten, and Mrs. De La Vergne. Besides cheering their "boys" on to victory the faculty "girls" defeated the pompon girls in an exhibition game during intermission.

The appearance of Santa, alias Mr. Winberg was an extra highlight of the game.

Talented Tyros Make Debuts in Lyceums

"THE UGLY DUCKLING" was a presentation of the drama classes. The main characters were Mike Parker (prince) and Linda Lopez (princess).

While much of the entertainment for assemblies was provided by outside performers, Encinal did its share in supplying talent for assemblies. The music, drama, and art departments combined to present an impressive "Christmas in Other Lands" program. Early in the spring the drama classes presented three one-act plays. One of the plays, "Julius Caesar," was the drama classes' own interpretation of the slaying of Caesar.

"Do EHS students lack patriotism?" This question, asked in one of Mr. Roke's government classes, sparked a unified effort by a group of seniors. The effort culminated in a "patriotism" assembly written, directed, and presented by seniors.

Outside entertainers included youth crusader Alan Davis, the University of California at Santa Barbara Men's Glee Club Choir, and the Country Club Singers.

Raul

ENCINAL'S "COOL" LEADERS, Raul Araujo, Mike Meredith (feet), Paulette Lyons, Sharon Hafner, and Joe Egan, "put on" the audience during the installation of the spring student body officers.

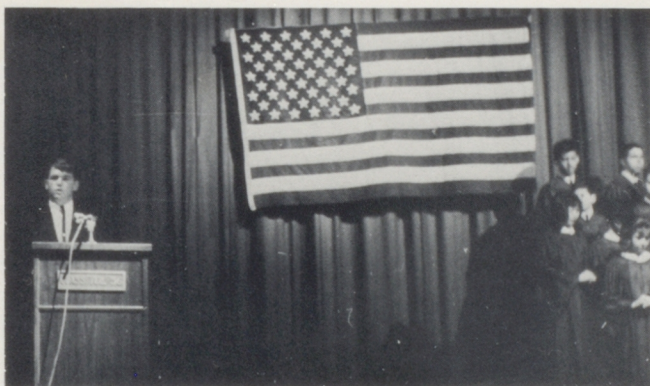

ENCINAL'S BRASS BAND decked the halls with Christmas carols. Members of the group are: A. Van Auken, T. Miner, M. Coward, J. Castro, T. Moser, D. Stake, B. Coward, B. Wellman, M. Robison.

IN ANOTHER DRAMA class play Dana Raley and Roberta Notrangelo portrayed angels and Eddie Fernandes, a murdered man.

SENIOR PATRIOTIC ASSEMBLY chairman Denny Johnson delivers his speech during the program at EHS. The Alameda Chapter of the American Legion was so impressed with the assembly that they asked the seniors to give a performance for the chapter.

COUNTRY CLUB SINGERS, Bain Cheshio, Bob Turner, and Dave Johns, accompany Pam Nehls in "Five Hundred Miles."

THE FIRST NOEL the Encinettes sang put the audience in a receptive mood for the "Christmas in Other Lands" program.

Senior Mouse Roars in Fine Fashion

A TOTALLY CONFUSED Rick Kirkland tries to remember his next line as Eugene Chase and Cheri Powers wait impatiently during one of the last rehearsals.

"DO YOU MEAN you brought the Q bomb to Grand Fenwick?" asks Count Mountjoy (Dave Lumsden) of Tully Bascom (Eugene Chase).

As the curtain rose on the 1965 senior class drama presentation, "The Mouse That Roared," the audience witnessed the finished product of a concentrated effort on the part of a group of enthusiastic young thespians.

The two-act play, satirizing the foreign aid received by countries conquered by the United States, involved the fifteen square mile Duchy of Grand Fenwick. This small duchy finding itself in financial trouble, planned to attack the United States with the object of losing the battle and receiving aid.

Lightning, properties, and make-up crews added their talents to the 33 amateur actresses and actors who made the play a success.

THE INTENSITY OF the scene is reflected on the faces of Roberta Notrangelo, Cheri Powers, and Sharon Hafner.

HELPING THE MAKE-UP crew is Mr. Cotter, director. Here, he applies grease paint to lead Rick Kirkland.

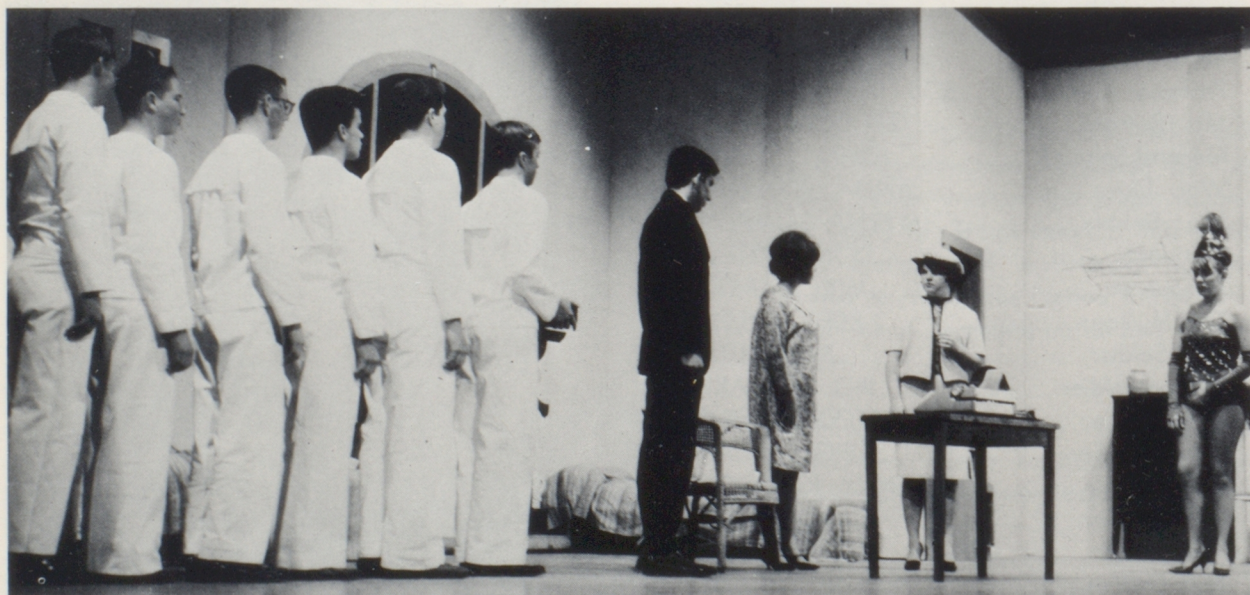

On the evenings of March 19-20, EHS students presented their allschool play, My Sister Eileen. For weeks before the play the four classes sold tickets on a competitive basis. The seniors, who had won the contest for the past three years, issued a challenge to the lower classmen; promising milk shakes to the advisory with the most sales and a stick of salami to the class with the least sales. Despite their boasting the seniors finished in second place, behind the juniors, and had to purchase milk shakes for Mrs. Rourke's junior advisory and the salami for the sophomore class.

The production, written by Fields and Chorov, involves two sisters from Columbus, Ohio who come to New York to begin careers in writing and acting. They end up entangled with a steady stream of bachelors who seem to always find the apartment door unlocked.

A COURTEOUS RUSSIAN Cossack won't take "nyet" for an answer as he delivers Violet to her former apartment, now occupied by Ruth, Eileen, and the Wreck!

PENITENT PORTUGUESE SAILORS plead forgiveness for causing the Sherman family embarrassment. The future admirals, Frank Gumpert, Frank Palecki, Dave Teller, Pat Kruichak, Bill Holt, and Terry Miner, were accompanied by their consul, Richard Baca, who tried to explain why the boys had invaded the apartment and started a conga line.

UPON COMPLETION OF final dress rehearsal the cast listens to the constructive criticism Mr. Cotter has to offer.

Encinal traditions range from "animals" to "purple bleacher people." The "animals" group consists of spring sports drop outs and prospective football team candidates. The freshmen have earned the name "purple bleacher people" because of their traditional seating in the bleachers during assemblies.

Seniors exemplified the serious side of traditions with customs such as the senior bench, senior picnic, senior hat and sock, senior assembly, senior supremacy in assembly seating, and the top 10 graduating seniors.

In addition to following traditions, Jets kept abreast of current fads. Fads that swept EHS this year were surf shirts, skate boards, and of course, BEATLEMANIA.

DOING THE "FREDDIE" at the Key Club-S Club dance, "San Francisco by Night," are Carol Ohl and Andy Huntoon. The

Providing financial aid to scholastically qualified students and tutorial assistance to those who need it, are the main concerns of the Encinal chapter of the California Scholarship Federation.

A $75 scholarship was awarded to the outstanding CSF'er at the awards assembly and a member of the honor society competed for a $500 state scholarship.

With a membership of "A-" average students, the CSF was well qualified to provide the year-long tutoring service.

At bi-monthly Wednesday morning meetings activities were planned. This year's activities included tours of the campus' of the University of California at Berkeley, Cal State at Hayward, Stanford University and San Francisco State College; an Easter candy sale; and a CSF sponsored all-school assembly.

The EHS chapter was also selected as the advisory board to all the East Bay chapters of the CSF.

Presentation of a $25 scholarship to the outstanding senior club member concluded this year's Sigma Epsilon activities. The scholarship was presented by Mrs. Puente, club sponsor, at the annual awards assembly.

Life membership pins were awarded in the spring to members who had been active participants for three consecutive or four nonconsecutive semesters.

Students with a "B" average make up the membership of the Sigma Epsilon, one of the two EHS honor societies. At weekly meetings the club planned money raising and fun activities for the year. These included snow cone sales, cupcake sales and a May picnic.

A tour through the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco followed by a dinner in a French restaurant, Tres Couleur, provided members of the EHS French club with a glimpse of the life and cuisine of France.

A Christmas party and spring picnic with the other language clubs rounded out a full year of activities.

Under the direction of Miss Dungan the club planned activities and money raising projects throughout the year. Established to promote an interest in French, the club was organized two years after Encinal opened its doors.

A statue of Venus stood in the center of the room near the artificial pond; ivy was strewn down the center of the low tables about the room; the slaves stood in line to receive food to serve the various citizens, senators, and guests who were present . . .

The time was 5:30. The setting was the EHS cafeteria. The event was the eighth annual Roman Banquet presented by the Latin Club.

After a potluck dinner—which the slaves (first year Latin students) served to the citizens (second year students), senators (students who have finished two years of Latin), and guests from Gaul (France) and Espana (Spain)—each class presented a skit and the slaves became citizens.

Though the Roman Banquet was the high point of the year, the club also joined the other language clubs in a spring picnic and had various cupcake sales. Officer pins and membership pins were also selected.

OFFICERS: L. Smith, treasurer; R. Araujo, vice-president; S. Giorgi, president; J. Conn, secretary.

The 1964-65 EHS Spanish Club, led by president Stan Giorgi, didn't shift into high gear until the last few weeks of the school year. Raul Araujo was the club's vice president, Linda Smith was treasurer and Janice Conn was secretary. The club's officers were elected early in the first semester and stayed in office for the remainder of the year.

The club's late year plans included a Spanish dinner, a picnic with the other Encinal language clubs, and a cupcake sale. Mrs. Maria Heeder is the club's sponsor.

The Spanish Club was started at Encinal in 1952 to acquaint students with the culture and customs of the Spanish speaking peoples.

Encinal Brings Home Honors from UN

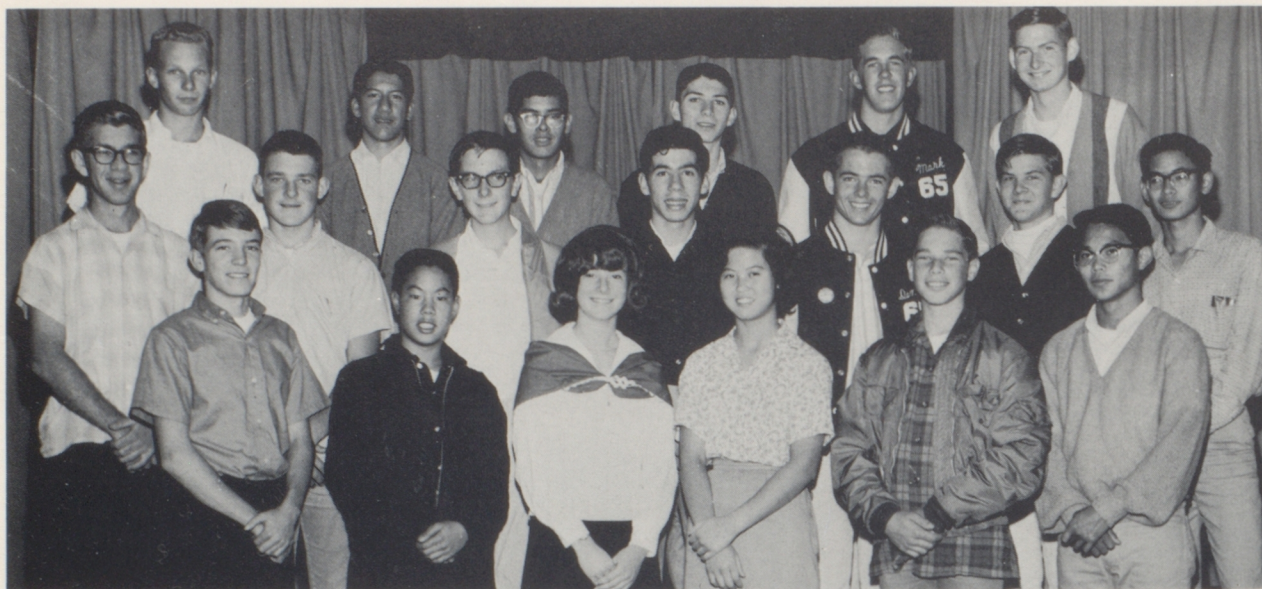

Should Red China be admitted to the UN? What should be done about the Portuguese colonies in Africa? How can member nations be made to pay their dues? These problems confronting delegates in the UN building in New York City were presented to the delegates at the Model United Nations Conference held at the University of California in February.

Representing the country of Portugal, the EHS delegation defended the decisions of their country on these and other issues at the three day conference. As a result of their efforts the delegation was selected as one of the top 10 out of 117 delegations. Another honor bestowed on the group was the selection of Rick Kirkland as one of the conference's outstanding speakers.

For their preparation for and participation at the conference, Clyde Barrow, Don Bartels, Brenda Herndon, Rick Kirkland, Sue Lester, and Bob Nieuwenhuyse were awarded John F. Kennedy United Nations Memorial books. The six, selected by other members of the EHS delegation, were presented the awards at an all-school assembly.

Chess Club Develops Mental Prowess

OFFICERS: J. Dickey, vice-president; J. Miller, president; D. Bartels, secretary-treasurer.

The Encinal Chess Club, during its sixth year of existence, attracts students who want to learn the game and be part of a team of highly skilled players who test their prowess against players from other schools.

The top seven players of Encinal oppose top players from such schools as Alameda, Berkeley, San Leandro, and Oakland Tech. This year's win-loss record wasn't impressive but Mr. King, club sponsor, said he considers the team the best he has worked with in many years.

The game of chess is intellectual, although the rules governing movement of pieces and strategy are quite simple and easily learned.

Book Fair Provides Varied Reading Fare

OFFICERS: B. Anderson, treasurer; K. Rhodes, vice-president; B. Gregory, president; L. Smith, secretary.

Two Paperback Book Fairs were the highlights of a very active year for SLANC (Student Assistants of Northern California). The fairs, held in November and April, provided EHS students with an opportunity to purchase paperback books at reasonable prices. The subjects ranged from astronauts to zoology.

Other activities included a talk by Mr. Carl Hamilton, head of the Alameda Public Library, Donut Hole and Coffee sales held during the lunch hours and an award dinner.

The club was organized in 1960 by Miss Pageau in order to provide service to EHS students through library activities. The EHS chapter is a chartered member of the state organization sponsored by the California Association of School Librarians.

The Tesla Coil, a device that yields up to 300,000 volts of electricity with a much smaller number of amps when plugged into a regular 120 volt outlet, was the EHS Science Club's entry for the 1965 San Francisco Science Fair.

Seeds of different plants were subjected to degrees of radiation ranging from 100 to 50,000 roentgens in an experiment designed to determine the effect of radiation on plant growth.

This year's Science Club was under the guidance of Mr. Delbert Kaiser.

Although it is not a large club, members were able to raise money through the year by selling cupcakes and lollipops.

Red Cross Brightens Hospital Routine

The hospital stay of patients from ages one to ninety was made more enjoyable through the efforts of the Encinal Junior Red Cross.

At Christmas, the club members and Santa Claus (Raul Araujo, EHS student body president) sang carols and presented gifts to patients in the children's ward at Oak Knoll Hospital. Later, at Easter, the club returned to give a party for the children.

The club also entertained patients at a rest home with talent recruited from throughout Alameda.

A week long membership drive in March had as its goal 100 per cent participation by EHS students.

Seven club members attended a conference of East Bay Junior Red Cross chapters where they heard speeches from students who had been sent overseas by the Red Cross.

FHA Delegates Attend Asilomar Confab

OFFICERS—SEATED: C. Bateman, treasurer; J. Conn, vice-president; J. McKnight, president; C. Bateman, secretary. STANDING: L. Goodfellow, song leader; M. Maes, parliamentarian.

Janice Conn and Connie Bateman represented Encinal High at the Future Homemakers Conference held at Asilomar. Janice and Connie participated in numerous discussion groups, heard speeches by prominent educators, witnessed plays and parades, and ended their stay by attending a formal banquet-meeting.

Various other members of the club attended section meetings designed to acquaint representatives with the activities of other FHA chapters. The FHA asked Ty Tran, Encinal's exchange student from South Viet Nam, to attend a foreign exchange section meeting. The club also gave an Easter party for children at Alameda Hospital and sold hot dogs at the ACAL Champion Wrestling meet held at Encinal.

OFFICERS: A. Van Auken, treasurer; J. Eliason, vice-president; G. Chase, president; A. Schroth, secretary.

"Moon River," "Candy," "Picnic."

These song titles describe 1965 Chi Mu highlights.

The first two, a dance and a candy sale, were fund raising projects. The third was a picnic held at Woodminster Park, high in the Oakland hills.

Profits from the dance and candy sale were used to help finance a music scholarship, the picnic, and buy musical equipment.

Trombonist Al Van Auken was the recipient of the Chi Mu scholarship to the Cazadero summer music camp on the Russian River. Purpose of the camp is to increase students' music skills and appreciation. Scholarships are awarded on the basis of participation in music activities and performing ability.

From the Antiseptic to the Ethereal

The Encinettes, EHS women's choral group performed for many groups throughout the year: the Woodstock PTA, Oak Knoll Naval Hospital patients, and the Business and Professional Women's Association.

Settings for the presentations ranged from the antiseptic atmosphere of a hospital ward to the ethereal elegance of the Claremont Hotel.

The occasions included the annual Christmas pageant, Christmas caroling to hospitalized patients, and the annual Christmas Tree Festival.

For all performances the Encinettes wore their new matching blue dresses.

Sharp EHS Musicians Were Seldom Flat

Under the direction of Mr. Hewitt, Encinal's three musical organizations provided the "sound of music" for school connected events.

The orchestra provided music for the Christmas pageant, the senior play, and graduation.

The EHS Stage Band performed at the International Dinner, Chi Mu dance, PTA Founders' Day program, and Spring Concert.

GA Donation Helps Found Girls' Club

Recognizing the need for an all-girls club in Alameda, the EHS Girls' Association donated a generous sum for the founding of such a club.

The now flourishing Alameda Girls' Club provides a place for girls of all ages to learn such things as knitting, drama, and baton twirling.

Another activity was an exchange of officers and talent with the Alameda High Girls' Association.

During the fall semester the organization sponsored a girl-ask-boy dance, "Winter Wonderland." In the spring their fancies turned to thoughts of fashions and in the annual fashion show the girls of Encinal modeled their latest clothes while some of the boys served as escorts.

PUSHING PEANUTS PROPERLY is difficult as these GAA initiates can testify.

"Our most important aim is to develop leadership and the ability to work together to reach various goals."

With these words Mrs. De La Vergne, sponsor, summed up the principal aim of the Girls' Athletic Association.

One of these goals was to carry out the last wish of the late Mrs. Lois Harriman to continue support of a Korean child. Until her death, it had been extremely doubtful whether the GAA would be financially able to do this.

But by contributing 75 cents per member and some of the proceeds from a very successful Christmas candy sale, the GAA was able to support the little girl.

Another successfully attained goal was the GAA playday, "Shamrock Shenanigans," held on Saint Patrick's Day. Participating in the event were GAAs from Alameda High, Fremont High, and Oakland Tech.

OFFICERS: C. Starr, vice-president; J. Potts, president; D. Schutty, secretary-treasurer.

Adding variety to their fund raising activities, the girls' Block E held a carwash in addition to a cupcake sale. The only other major activity was officiating at the GAA playday.

Membership is restricted to girls who earn 1200 points in GAA activities. Points are awarded for attending swim and track meets, having good attendance, joining committees, becoming manager or co-manager and holding offices.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Martin the Block E chose white sweat shirts and white shorts as their official uniform.

The Encinal High School Boys' Block E Club is composed of athletes who have earned their block E athletic award. The block can be earned in football, cross country, basketball, wrestling, baseball, track, swimming, golf, and tennis.

An annual activity of the club, sponsored by Mr. Gorman, is the participation in the Faculty-Block E basketball game held just before Christmas vacation. Proceeds from this affair are given to the American Field Service program.

Determination and will power were the main advantages the Encinal Jets had in each of their games. But this combination was not enough to overcome the size and experience of other Alameda County Athletic League teams. The Jets were outweighed, but seldom outplayed as they performed with great spirit throughout the season.

Encinal's light, 175 lb. average line, led by 145 lb. All-ACAL defensive end Dennis Wolf, was tops in defense for the first four league games. The Jets' defense was so stingy that it allowed only 19 points during the first half of the season. Meanwhile, the offense, paced by the passing of quarterback Steve Loy and the running of half-backs James Tensley and Jessie Mims, generated enough points to win three out of the first four games.

DAVID ALEXANDER DROPS a San Leandro runner after a short gain as Joe Egan moves in to help make the stop.

Fought Like Tigers but Had to Yield

JESSE MIMS LEAVES a trail of DeAnza defenders behind him as he breaks loose for a long gain.

In the Richmond game, however, Lady Luck turned her back on Encinal. The ball seemed to bounce the wrong way all night as Encinal lost its first league game to the Oilers 9-0.

As the season wore on the Jets wore down and the length of the season proved to be too much as Encinal lost its last five league games. The first of the losing string was against our cross-town rival, Alameda High, in a game which was televised throughout the Bay Area.

Encinal ended the season with three wins and six losses, the Jets' best record since 1961.

ENCINAL'S OFFENSE AND defense may not have been tops in the league, but each had its moments. In the photo above, halfback Jesse Mims rips off a huge chunk of yardage against Alameda High. Below, Bob Fransen puts the stop on a Hornet ball carrier as Ron Elliot comes up to assist.

JESSE MIMS PLOWS through the De Anza line to pick up valuable yardage. Mims went on to score one of the Jets' two touchdowns as Encinal shutout De Anza 13-0.

JAMES TENSLEY DIVES at a DeAnza ball carrier as Dave Alexander (70), Art Gomez (79), and George Clemmens (63), come in to help make the kill.

Collectively, the '64 Jet eleven was not the best team in the school's history, but during the season a few players blossomed into individual stardom.

Such players included: Dave Alexander, voted by his teammates as the "Most Inspirational Player" on the '64 varsity team; Joe Egan, voted into the Northern California Football Foundation Hall of Fame; Larry Reis, voted as the top lineman at Encinal by the NCCF Hall of Fame; and Dennis Wolf, chosen by East Bay prep sports writers as an All-ACAL defensive end.

All four players were awarded the Amos Alonzo Stagg medal, presented to the outstanding player of the week by the EHS coaching staff.

Encinal's 1965 varsity basketball team, although compiling an unimpressive 5-20 log, unveiled a number of potential stars for future seasons.

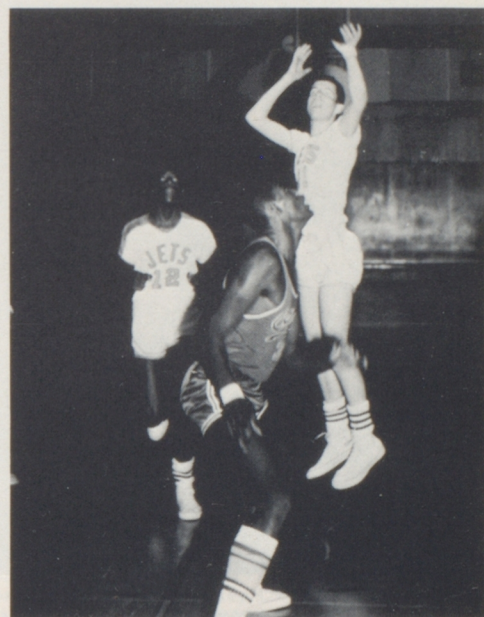

The team was composed mostly of underclassmen. Steve Loy, a junior, led the team in scoring with an average of better than 15 points per game. Other regular varsity men were Robert Walker, Seavenes Holder, Ron Wayne, and Carlton Taylor. All of these players will be back next year.

High point for the Jets came in the second round of the Alameda County Athletic League cage season when they defeated Alameda High, 73-64. Steve Loy paced the Jet attack in that game, scoring 23 points.

"Their conduct on and off the mat was excellent, it gave a good example of the cleanliness of the sport and also a fine impression of the Encinal athlete."

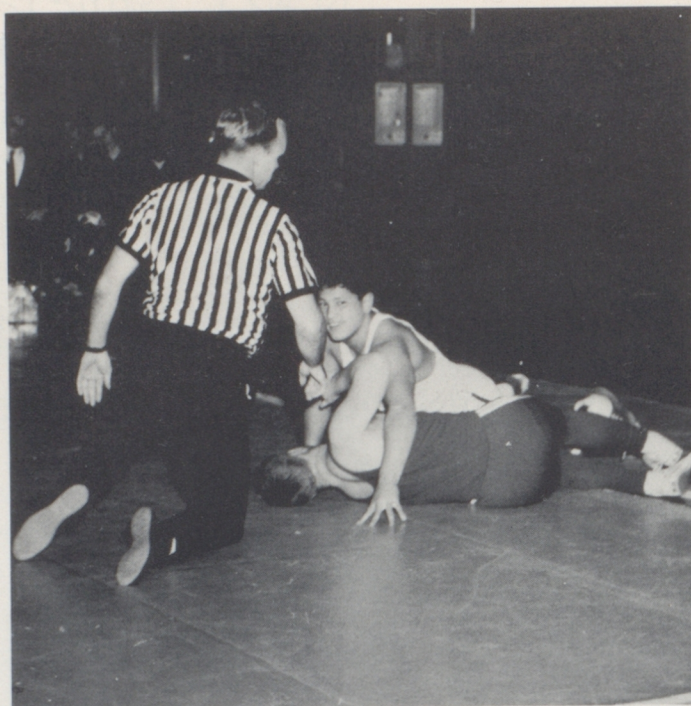

These words of Coach Dick Gorman aptly describe Encinal High School's 1964-65 Alameda County Athletic League wrestling champions. The Jet matmen compiled a 9-2 record, the best since the sport began at Encinal in 1959.

Except for San Leandro, the other ACAL teams, Harry Ells, Richmond, and Berkeley, initiated wrestling as a varsity sport this season.

Nine representatives, first and second place finishers in the ACAL wrestling championship matches held at Encinal, participated in the North Coast Sectional Tournament at Danville. This was the largest contingent ever to represent EHS at the event.

Expanded Season for Encinal Netmen

Encinal's 1965 tennis team played during an expanded season. The schedule will continue to increase as more Alameda County Athletic League schools take up tennis.

The 1965 season at Encinal found nearly 20 aspirants turning out—indicating an interest in tennis not previously shown by EHS athletes.

Encinal coach Paul Foster stated, "I feel tennis interest will continue to grow and I look for more EHS athletes to come out in 1966."

Interest in Golf on Upswing at EHS

KEN BUSSE PREPARES to tee off during a practice session prior to a crucial match.

With the significance of golf in the lives of successful American businessmen, more and more young men are taking up the sport—undoubtedly planning on becoming successful American businessmen.

As a possible result, golf became another of the growing sports at Encinal in 1965. Coached by Paul Foster, the golfers had a much more active season in 1965 than in '64.

It was thought that golf would be dropped due to lack of interest but these rumors died after it was announced that over 20 men were planning to try out for the team.

Coach Foster is looking forward to a busier season in 1966.

Encinal's 1965 cross-country team, coached by George Cadwell, capped a successful season by finishing second in Alameda County Athletic League final standings.

Highlight of the season came in October when the Jet long-distance men beat Alameda High in the frosh-soph, junior varsity, and varsity races.

EHS Two Mile Record Broken by Tim Tymn

Encinal's 1965 track team began the Alameda County Athletic League season in fair fashion, winning and losing in their first two meets. The Jet tracksters defeated Harry Ells, 65-57, only to lose later to El Cerrito, 88-29.

Tim Tymn, Encinal's outstanding two-miler, broke the school record with a time of 10:02.7; a fine achievement considering Tim's performance occurred at the beginning of a long season.

Coach George Cadwell felt the late season meets would give a good indication of the type of talent that will make up Jet track teams of the future.

Coach Cadwell also handled the Jet cross-country team which highlighted a successful season by defeating Alameda High School in varsity, junior varsity, and frosh-soph races.

Encinal Mermen Smash School Records

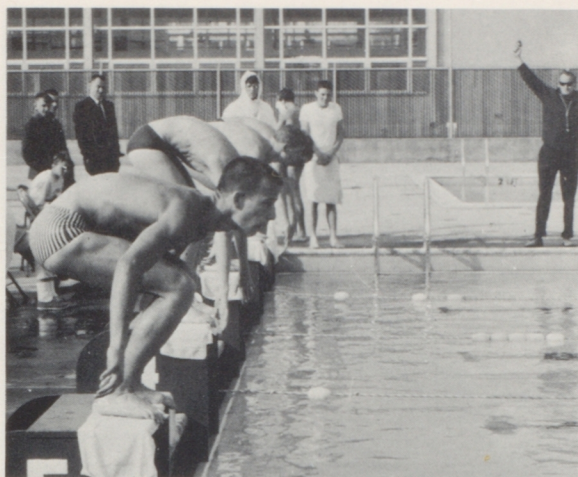

The Encinal High School swimming team of 1965 started out as one of the more proficient Jet athletic teams, winning 7 out of 9 meets in the early season.

Coached by Dave Johns, the Jetfinmen broke many school records in rivalling the Jet wrestlers for the title of best athletic team for the 1964-65 school year.

The junior varsity team, in paralleling the varsity record, developed fine prospects for later Jet varsity squads. Returning next year will be Steve Blank, Larry Kirkland, Wayne Adolfson, Kurt Snyder, John Garlington, Ed Fernandes, John Cornish, Bob O'Brien, Howard Alcorn, Gilbert Araujo, and Pat Brandt.

Encinal High baseball players of the past have eclipsed all other Jet athletes in the attainment of bigger and better things. As the 1965 season began at EHS, two former Jets, major leaguers Tommy Harper of Cincinnati and Wilver Stargell of Pittsburgh—were busy in spring training at their respective teams' camps. Perhaps another big leaguer of the future was a part of the Jet 1965 varsity diamond squad.

Led by George Read, Encinal's varsity baseball coach for the past eight years, the '65 varsity team started slowly, dropping their first four Alameda County Athletic League contests.

The Jet 1965 junior varsity team sparkled with future varsity talent. John Matula coached the jayvee team.

Female Athletes Perform Varied Feats

Scholarship, skill, and sportsmanship are qualities necessary for acceptance into the Girls' Athletic Association. The organization, supported by over 70 girls this year, gives members an opportunity to participate in a wider variety of sports than offered in regular gym classes.

Sports available to feminine athletes are modern dance, tumbling, square dancing, swimming, diving, volleyball, basketball, softball, bowling, badminton, tennis, archery, and track.

Girls participate in interscholastic sports days sponsored by GAA's throughout the Bay Area. GAA members' efforts are rewarded by circle E, winged E, block E, and star awards.

MIXED REACTIONS TO Mr. Reilly's orientation lecture are registered by eager, tickled, and disinterested members of the class of '68.

The "Great Class of '68," began the school year with Freshmen Orientation.

Freshmen began school one week early to become acquainted with Encinal's rules, regulations, and faculty.

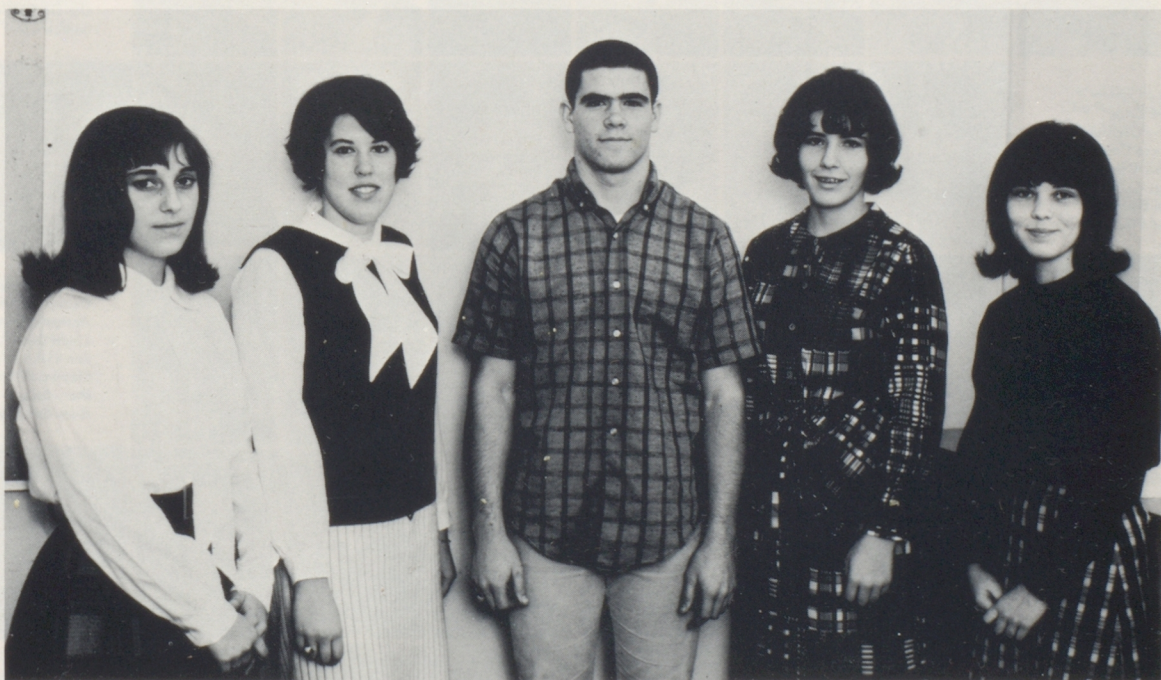

Orientation is now compulsory for every incoming freshman. It started last year with the class of '67.

Themeless Sophs Are the Class of '67

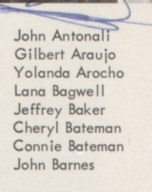

SPRING CLASS OFFICERS: K. Conroy, cheerleader; S. Lester, vice-president; R. Elliott, president; L. Scannell, secretary; R. Lambert, treasurer.

DILIGENTLY SCRUBBING THE senior bench is Sophomore Gilbert Araujo. Gilbert received his punishment from the student court for sitting on the bench.

"Roll those dice 7 come 11, the best class is '67," is the Sophomore class cheerleaders' yell.

Regardless of the yell, the Sophomores do not have a class theme as the other classes do. And until someone thinks of one without the word "heaven" in it, the Sophomore class will remain themeless.

The class' main money-making event this year was the Soph Hop, "Dancing In The Street," held October 23, the day of the Alameda-Encinal game. The Soph Hop was the scene of the formal crowning of the 1964 Football Queen and the presentation of the two princesses and the four attendants.

Class cards and cupcakes were sold each semester to help fatten the class "kitty."

Sophomore activities did not consist entirely of dancing, however, as they showed their mature side in co-sponsoring with the other classes a foster child, Hung Sik Park, a 14 year old Korean boy.

FALL CLASS OFFICERS: M. Ranard, cheerleader; C. Estrada, vice-president; N. Redden, president; D. Broussard, secretary; A. Huntoon, treasurer.

Juniors Choose: 'Class That Clicks '66'

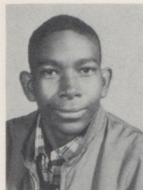

SPRING CLASS OFFICERS: T. Peddecord, treasurer; B. Fransen, vice-president; R. Cruz, president; C. Wavrin, secretary; S. Littlejohn, cheerleader.

Juniors End Year on a 'Carousel' Whirl

"FUR CRY'N OUT loud, is that really me?" asks Stevie Searle of Karyn Freested as she gasps in amazement at what a little fur and formal will do for a girl's appearance.

ALL THAT POUNDAGE on the thermometer just keeps dropping off! No wonder Ora Lee Pittman is all smiles.

The semi-formal event was held May 14 in the EHS gym where a gaily bedecked carousel adorned the center of the dance floor. Though sans carousel tunes, couples whirled around the merry-go-round to the equally "catchy" music of the "Jerk," "Twine," and "Philly."

The Juniors warmed up for the Junior Prom with a noon dance in the halls of the 400 wing, April 8, during fifth period.

The class of '66—thanks largely to Bing Sue—proved it was the class that clicks as it broke a three year monopoly the class of '65 held on the All School Play ticket sale contest.

Ora Lee Pittman exemplified the 'can do' spirit of the Juniors by embarking on a successful weight losing campaign. By mid-April she had shed 20 of the 40 pounds she had vowed to lose in time for the Junior Prom.

"ARE THESE FLOWERS for real and will this orchid keep until May 14?" asks a bewildered Robert Cardwell as he shops for flowers at Scott's Florist.

EGADS! HE DOESN'T have a heart!!

WHILE STROLLING THROUGH the halls one day, these girls were taken by surprise by a pair of smiling eyes?

GEE BEDETTA, WHAT'S so funny about that history book?

AH HA! SNEAKING out of class before the bell rings huh? It seems that Floyt isn't doing a very good job in trying to stop them, is he?

Four Memorable Years Come to an End

On September 11, 1961, the members of the class of '65 entered Encinal as freshmen and began four years of unforgettable experiences.

The girls were honored at a Freshman Reception put on by the Girls' Association October 4, 1961.

The student body presented the opening dance, "Aloha," to welcome the freshmen to Encinal.

Our class presented a get acquainted dance after school in the cafeteria for freshmen only.

Our first money making project was the selling of booklets containing complete schedules of the football and the basketball games. We also sold noise makers at the football games.

As sophomores we presented our Soph Hop, "Monster Mash," October 26, 1962, in the Encinal gym. It was a big success.

Our class was the first to present a dramatic production, other than the traditional Senior Assembly, at the weekly assembly. It consisted of a series of farcical skits and musical numbers under the direction of Mr. James Millett.

In the spring of '63, the girls chose a brown mohair as their Junior Sweater.

As sophomores and juniors our class won the ticket selling contests for the All School Plays.

The main attraction of our junior year was our Junior Prom, "Tahitian Sunset," May 15, 1964.

June 12, 1964, we officially became seniors and received our long awaited Senior Rings.

On September 10, 1964, we began our last year at Encinal.

The second Monday evening after school started, we had a senior class meeting at the Encinal Swim Center.

"The Mouse That Roared" was our outstanding Senior Play November 20-21, 1964.

Our class ensured that Mrs. Lois Harriman would never be forgotten by setting up a continuous memorial trophy in her name. The trophy will be presented to the senior girl who shows the most improvement in PE over a four year period.

With the initiative of a few seniors our class presented a Patriotism Assembly at the weekly student meeting February 28, 1965 to point out to members of the student body the importance of patriotism towards one's country. The seniors did such an outstanding job that they were asked to present the assembly for the Alameda Chapter of the American Legion.

In March, 1965, we ordered senior announcements and were fitted for caps and gowns.

April 30, 1965, was the annual senior Sadie Hawkins Dance in the Encinal gym.

Our Senior Picnic was on Wednesday, May 19, 1965.

The Mother-Daughter Tea was held at the "Mikado" in Jack London Square, Oakland on June 6, 1965.

Thursday, June 10, 1965, the Senior Assembly was presented. It consisted of a series of acts auditioning for a big production.

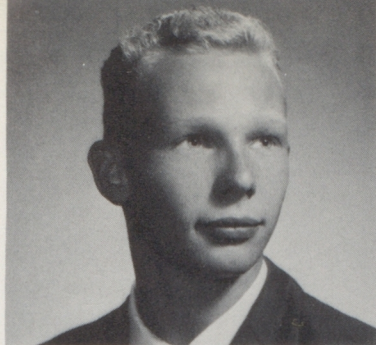

The long awaited Senior Ball and Banquet, "Knights Of Olde," was presented in the Churchill Room of the Clairmont Hotel in Berkeley, June 11, 1965.

Our Baccalaureate was held June 13, 1965.

We bid our final farewells to Encinal June 18, 1965, at our Graduation.

Many of us will go on to universities, colleges, and junior colleges. We will take with us the knowledge and fond memories that Encinal has imparted in us.

Excellence Brings Seniors Recognition

NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARSHIP semi-finalists Jean Allen and Jim Dickey receive congratulations from Mr. Bell.

TONI BOWLES RECEIVED the Good Citizen Award presented annually by the Alameda Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

JOE EGAN
Boys' State

REGINA PERATA
Girls' State

Excellence in scholarship, citizenship, and athletics brought nineteen seniors recognition this year.

Twelve seniors, chosen by the faculty, received Merit Blazers in their junior year for their outstanding ability in various fields of study.

Two National Merit Scholarship semi-finalists will compete for scholarships based on their scores on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test and the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

EUGENE CHASE JAMES TENSLEY
Fellowship of Christian Athletes

One senior was selected by the girls of the senior class to receive the DAR Good Citizen Award.

The South Kiwanis Club of Alameda sponsored the trip of two Encinal athletes to Ashland, Oregon, to participate in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes Conference.

A boy and a girl were selected to represent Encinal at Girls' State and Boys' State. The programs, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, encourage and develop a deeper interest in the study of government at the city, county, and state levels.

Graduates: If you're looking for a job, try us.

We're interested in hiring people just like you to hold down jobs as telephone operators, telephone installers, linemen and office clerks.

You'll work alongside people your own age. Starting pay is good. And you'll earn full pay, even during training. All this, plus the assurance that goes with working for a leader in the busy, booming communications business.

Come in and see us at: 2148 Broadway, Oakland.
